● Farm Incomes in the United Kingdom 1993/94

Farm Incomes in the United Kingdom, published on the 23 March 1995, provides detailed information on the structure of the United Kingdom agricultural industry.

The tenth volume, in an annual series, gives detailed analyses of the developments in the income, assets and liabilities of the agricultural industry at the farm level and in aggregate. Detailed economic results, based on the Farm Business Survey (Farm Accounts Scheme in Scotland) are shown by country, farm type, business size and tenure as well as estimates of the gross margins for a range of crop and livestock enterprises in England and Wales. In most tables the years covered are 1993 and 1994.

For the first time a special study of farmer's capital investment was carried out on the same sample of farms for the Farm Business Survey for the years 1990/91 - 1992/93. The details are summarised in the report and the objective of the Capital Investment Survey was to provide more detailed information about the level and pattern of investment in Agriculture at farm level for England and Wales.

UK Sea Fisheries Statistics

HMSO are due to publish the latest edition of the "UK Sea Fisheries Statistics" on 29 September 1995.

This annual series of publications is intended to provide a broad picture of the UK sea fishing industry and its operations. Data for 1994 are provided along with some earlier data. As in previous editions, this publication includes text and graphs to help explain and illustrate the figures within the tables.

New developments include a presentation of some international (FAO) data on fisheries to give a world perspective; and on a more domestic front information on the number of fishermen have been updated from a new survey in England and Wales.

Local Government Financial Statistics
England No.5 1994

Local Government Financial Statistics England No.5 1994, scheduled for publication by the Department of Environment in October, contains a summary of financial and manpower information returned by English local authorities. This edition contains outturn (final) figures for revenue and capital expenditure for 1992/93. It also contains provisional figures for 1993/94 and budget figures for 1994/95.

In addition to over fifty tables, the publication includes an annex of detailed revenue and capital outturn data, a glossary and an outline of the changes which have taken place in the local government finance system.

Some of the key points are:

- Local authority gross spending was over £69 billion in 1992/93, of which 37% was on education and 16% was on housing;

- Local authority spending accounted for 25.6% of General Government Expenditure in 1992/93 and 8.5% of domestic expenditure in 1993;

- About 17% of local government expenditure was met by the council tax in 1994/95;

- Nearly 2.2 million people were employed by councils in 1994, education and social services being the largest groups.

Statistics on the operation of Prevention of Terrorism legislation - 1994

This annual bulletin provides information on the number of persons detained under the Prevention of Terrorism Act 1989 in Great Britain, distinguishing between those detained in connection with Northern Irish terrorism and those detained in connection with international terrorism. The numbers of those whose detention leads to exclusion, deportation or criminal charges (together with the results of these charges) are also shown, as are the lengths of the detentions including any extensions. Similar information is also provided on those examined under the Act but not detained.

Reference

'Statistics on the operation of the Prevention of Terrorism legislation - 1994'.

(Home Office statistical bulletin, issue 2/95, published 17 February 1995).

Breath test statistics - England and Wales 1994

This annual bulletin gives statistics on drivers required to supply breath for a screening breath test and those whose test was positive or refused. The total number of screening tests (678,500) was 13.2 per cent up on the 1993 figure, and 14 per cent (the lowest proportion ever recorded) were positive or refused. Statistics by month and police force area are included.

Reference

'Breath test statistics - England and Wales 1994'. (Home Office statistical bulletin, issue 7/95, published 27 April 1995).

Firearm certificate statistics - England and Wales 1994

This annual bulletin gives information on the issue of firearm and shot gun certificates under the Firearms Acts 1968 to 1992. Details are given of the number of new and renewal applications together with the number of certificates on issue at the end of 1994. Details as to the number of firearms dealers who apply for registration, registrations granted and refused, removals from register etc. are also included. All these statistics are given by police force area.

Reference is made to the number of weapons covered by the certificates on issue and information is also provided on visitors' firearm and shot gun permits.

Statistics on European firearm passes and article 7 authorities are included (the former, broadly speaking, a passport for firearms needed when an EC resident travels to shoot in another EC state and the latter giving authority for a shooter in the EC to purchase firearms of certain types outside his or her State of residence).

Reference

'Firearms certificate statistics - England and Wales 1994'. (Home Office statistical bulletin, issue 11/95, published 25 May 1995).

Operation of certain police powers under PACE - England and Wales 1994

This annual bulletin gives statistics on the operation of certain police powers under the 1984 Police and Criminal Evidence Act. Details are included of stops and searches of persons and vehicles for prohibited articles; of road checks of vehicles in connection with investigation of serious offences or escape from custody; of detentions by the police for more than 24 hours without charge; and of intimate searches for drugs or harmful articles. Totals for England and Wales are given annually from 1986, the year the Act was implemented, with figures for individual police forces for 1994.

General Register Office for Scotland

Population Estimates

The Registrar General's mid-1994 estimates of the population of Scotland were released in April 1995. A booklet¹ summarising these estimates was published by HMSO on 30 June 1995. This booklet also contains a summary of mid-year population estimates for the new council areas resulting from the Local Government etc (Scotland) Act 1994.

¹ Mid-1994 Population Estimates, Scotland. HMSO, 1994, Price £4.00

More detailed analyses of these population estimates by sex, single year of age and area, are available from Population Statistics Branch (PSB) at the address overleaf (Telephone: 0131-314 4301).

Annual Report

The Annual Report of the Registrar General for Scotland, 1994 was published by GRO(S) on 31 July 1995, price £15.00. The Report presents statistical information arising from the registration of 'vital events' - births, deaths and marriages, together with divorces and adoptions - and related statistical information on the population of Scotland. This year's Report has been restructured and restyled.

To obtain copies of this publication, or for more detailed analyses of vital event information, please contact PSB Publications Unit (Tel. 0131-314 4243) at the address below.

Welsh Office

New quarterly release of statistics on the NHS in Wales

The Welsh Office has introduced a new quarterly release of statistical information relating to the National Health Service (NHS) in Wales. The quarterly release provides the latest information on certain important series;

- Hospital waiting lists and performance against Patient's Charter standards
- Ambulance emergency response times
- Hospital activity
- Staffing
- Primary Health Care
- Complaints

The first issue, titled 'NHS Wales: Quarterly Statistics - June 1995' was published on the 14 July 1995. The next issue is due to be published on 13 September 1995, containing information for the period up to the end of June 1995.

Along with the introduction of the new quarterly release of statistics during 1995 the Welsh Office will introduce a change in the way it publishes its annual health statistics for Wales. A single annual volume, 'Health Statistics: Wales' will be introduced to replace the present annual (and biannual) publications* to provide a definitive statement on health statistics and to avoid some of the duplication in the present publications. The annual volume will include commentary and charts together with more detailed tables illustrating the range and quality of patient services in Wales. It is intended to release, at the same time as the annual volume, a diskette containing some of the more detailed information. The first of the new annual volumes, and its accompanying diskette, will be published on 13 December 1995.

*Existing publications to be replaced:

Health and Personal Social Service Statistics for Wales
Mental Health Statistics for Wales
Key Statistical Indicators for Health in Wales
Welsh Hospital Waiting List Bulletin
